C. A. Cole of Montclair, N. J.; unexpectedly sold his hotel in that city and is now stopping at the Beal's Tavern with his wife and wife's mother, Mrs. Esther Ryerson and visiting friends in the vicinity. There are several hotel prospects in view which look good to him and he expects to get into business in the near future. Mrs. Ryerson of South Paris had just got located at Montclair to spend the winter with her daughter when the change came and if her son-in-law does not find a hotel to his liking they will open her home at South Paris and remain there for the winter.

Maudie E. Pike sang soprano in the quartette at the Congregational church, Sunday. The Christmas music was finely rendered, the voices blending harmoniously. Miss Pike is a Norway girl, the daughter of A. L. E. Pike, and since her graduation from the Norway High school has been attending the Conservatory of Music in Boston. She graduates from the Conservatory next June. She has a very sweet, musical voice, and she is a student in whatever she undertakes to study. Her Norway friends were delighted with her solo, "O Quiet Night, O Holy Night," a Christmas song, words and music by W. H. Neidinger. Miss Pike is fitting herself for a teacher of music.

The Boston Comedy Co.

The Leader-Mail of Granby, Que., of Dec. 12th says:

"After remaining away from our town long enough to allow another generation to grow up who knew not the talent of this old time comedian, the veteran actor Price Webber and his Boston Comedy Company played here on Monday and Tuesday evenings last." Varieties. The play given on the first night was "Queen for a Day," and its rendering gave evident pleasure to a crowded house.

"The veteran comedian is just as funny as ever, despite advancing years, and is less remarkable in the talent displayed by his wife (Edwina Gray), who for quite a few years has been so absorbed in the study of her art that she has forgotten to grow old. Moreover the company is well balanced all the members being decidedly over the average."

"The Laneshire Lass" was given on Tuesday night, when although the audience was not as large as on the first night it was none the less enthusiastic. Price Webber certainly is an institution throughout the Eastern Townships and far beyond.

"He is one of the few survivors who have been able to hold his own throughout the remarkable changes in the amusement world of recent years, and if he has not made a fortune through the laughter he has earned by his comedy."

Wednesday evening, Jan. 7th, this company will be at Norway Opera House. H. Price Webber and Edwina Gray have entertained in Norway, the father's fathers even down to the third generation, and they and their companies have always done it to the satisfaction of their big audiences.

Poultry Show.

An interesting feature among the poultry shows of this section of the State is the Annual Western Maine Poultry Show, which has come to be one of the best poultry exhibits held in this part of the State.

This is the fifth annual exhibition. The first three were held at New Hall, South Paris, and while the hall was adequate for the first show, it has increased to such an extent that it was decided to hold the show last year at the Norway Opera House, which is in every respect one of the best fitted halls for this purpose because of the spacious hall, air-rooms, stage and heating arrangements.

There have been marked improvements in the exhibitions from year to year with larger and better exhibits. There are entries from many distant places, while the local towns are well represented, showing that poultry raising has increased locally within the past five years.

Harry Lovejoy had charge of the hall and attended to placing and arranging the birds.

The stage was devoted to the ducks and geese, eggs and dressed birds, while the remaining birds occupied the Main hall.

E. P. Crockett of South Paris, the secretary of the Association, was assisted by Marion E. Gibson of Norway.

Patrons Vote for Postmaster.

The democratic patrons of the Norway Postoffice will decide by ballot who they want for postmaster to succeed C. S. Akers, the present incumbent, whose term of office expires next spring, Saturday, Jan. 31, at 2:30 p. m. is the time set, and the polls will close at 9:30 in the evening.

The person getting the largest number of votes will receive the recommendation for the appointment and undoubtedly be our next postmaster.

There are four candidates, all more or less active—A. L. F. Pike, F. E. DeCoster, W. A. Lewis and W. S. Bickford; any one of whom will make a good postmaster, but by agreement the person getting the most votes will receive the endorsement of the proper officers.

At one time W. S. Bickford concluded to withdraw as a candidate and so announced it but his supporters wished him to remain in the field and he will comply with their wishes.

Only democrats will be allowed to vote and a committee to decide who are eligible will be appointed and the marking of ballots will be done in the booths, the same as at State elections.

Found Dead.

Charles M. Pulsifer, aged 68 years, of 14 High Street, was found dead behind a car of stock which he was loading for the United States Robbin and Shuttle Co., Auburn, at about 7:30 o'clock, Wednesday morning, Dec. 24th. Mr. Pulsifer had been at work but a few minutes and he was alone not more than ten minutes. Death was due to heart failure.

Mr. Pulsifer was born in Lowell, Mass., in 1845. He came to Maine when very young, living at Norway for several years. It was at Norway that he married Ida Swift of South Paris, in 1868. He drove the shoe factory team while in Norway.

From Norway, Mr. and Mrs. Pulsifer moved to Yarmouthville, later moving to Auburn, in 1902.

Mr. Pulsifer was a member of the New England Order of Protection. He leaves besides his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Charles Seaver of Auburn, Mrs. Jordan of Gilead, and a brother, George E. Pulsifer, of West Falmouth, seven grandchildren. Another daughter died six years ago.

The funeral was held from the home of Mrs. C. L. Seaver, at 3 o'clock, Friday afternoon, Rev. F. Johnson, D. D., officiated. Interment was at West Bethel. Friends present from out of town were: Mrs. F. A. Ball, Charlestown, Mass.; George E. Pulsifer, West Sumner; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Jordan and Raymond Morse, Gilead.

Little Roger Gates is a proud boy. He is the owner of a small pair of snowshoes, just his size. Roger is little more than a baby. When he and his mother, Mrs. Hortense Gates, go on snowshoeing trips she takes along his baby sleigh so he can ride when weary. It is one of the attractive sights on Norway streets to see the little fellow in his red felt suit, talking along on his snowshoes just off the sidewalk and his mother on the walk, pushing the baby sleigh comfortably fitted with its white robes.

Mrs. James Crockett.

Mrs. Ellen (Hobbs) Crockett died at her home above Norway Lake village, Christmas morning, of pneumonia, aged 76 years, 9 months and 27 days.

She was the daughter of Amos Hobbs, Jr., and Louisa (McGillivray) Hobbs. She married Col. James Crockett, Nov. 23, 1850, after his return from the Civil War, where he served as a soldier. They have lived on what was formerly her father's farm. Her people were among the early settlers of Norway, her uncle being the first male child born in the town.

At the time of her death her aged husband was also very ill with pneumonia, and his recovery was considered doubtful. About two years ago Col. Crockett broke his hip and though he had become able to walk about the past summer was still dependent a great deal on his wife's care, so her death seems doubly sad. Col. Crockett is much better and his recovery is now looked for.

The funeral was held Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Rev. J. J. Bruce was the attending clergyman. There were many beautiful flowers. The remains were placed in the tomb in Pine Grove cemetery.

Mary Emeline Reed.

Mary Emeline Reed died at her home in Boston, Dec. 27 at 7:30 p. m. of heart disease, aged 73 years.

She was born in Norway, June 30, 1840, the daughter of Hon. Henry C. and Martha R. (Millett) Reed. She lived in her youth at the home farm in Millettville, but has lived in Massachusetts for many years. She worked at millinery, dressmaking and other occupations. She never married. She had a most cheerful disposition and was always working for others.

She is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Martha Hill of West Paris, Laura Reed of Boston and Mrs. Maria Fisher of Wrentham, Mass. She and her sister Laura had made their home together since Laura moved from the Norway farm after the death of her parents.

Miss Reed was a Universalist in religious belief. The funeral was in Boston, Dec. 29, conducted by Rev. Geo. Paris in Norway, Dec. 31, Rev. C. G. Miller officiating. The bearers were James True, James N. Fawcett, Frank Millett and Harry Millett. Interment in Pine Grove cemetery.

PARIS.
Mrs. Mary A. Buck.
Mrs. Mary A. Buck died at her home in Paris, Dec. 18, aged 78. She was the widow of John Buck, a veteran of the Civil war where he served in the Fifth Maine. The cause of Mrs. Buck's death was a shock although her health had not been good for a long time. She leaves a large family and many friends. She was the mother of twelve children, six of whom are now living: Solomon, with whom she made her home; Cora, the wife of Edwin Robertson of Portland; Jennie M. Ratcliff of Locke Mills; Amos, George and Lewis; also seventeen grandchildren and one great grandchild; two brothers, Joseph Lapham of Lewiston and George Lapham of Bath. The funeral was held Sunday, Dec. 20, from her late home, Rev. G. W. Hill officiating. The bearers were G. W. Cole, Edgar Hutchins, E. B. Curtis and F. W. Shaw. Burial at Riverside cemetery, South Paris.

WEST PARIS.
A. K. Dinock has been visiting at Chas. Dunham's.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Curtis spent Christmas with her people at Sumner.

Mrs. Otis Curtis spent Christmas with her daughter Mrs. Carrie Frost at Newry.

John Bates has moved his family into the upstairs room in the Samuel Dunham house.

Mrs. Sara Curtis has returned and is receiving a visit from her grandson, Earle Adams.

Harry Mann and family went to Milton to spend Christmas with his brother, Abner, and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Shurtliff and C. H. Adams of Norway spent Christmas Sunday with C. H. Lane and family.

A. D. Coburn was taken suddenly ill Monday noon, with acute indigestion and was quite seriously sick for a while but is now getting better.

Our first snow storm came Tuesday to stay and we had sleighing and the jingle of sleigh bells made Christmas seem more complete.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Wardwell and their children spent Christmas with their people, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Irish, at Buckfield. She remained for a week or more.

Lewis M. Mann & Son gave as a Christmas present a barrel of flour to each married man in their employ, both here and at Milton, the sum of money to the unmarried employees.

F. L. Wyman has already gathered nine bushels of brownish mota nests, which is a third of what he expects to secure. H. R. Tuell gathered 190 nests from one medium sized tree.

Thursday evening, Granite Chapter, O. E. S. presented a Past Worthy Patron, Mrs. L. E. Hildon, to the Past Worthy Matron pin and Past Worthy Patron Charles F. Barden a Past Worthy Patron pin.

The Xmas tree and entertainment was a success, the hall well filled and the evening very enjoyable time, likewise the older people and a boy, their little songs and recitations and witnessed their pleasure.

There were a few family gatherings and Xmas trees and two Christmas babies were also added to the community. One girl, Leez May, born Dec. 23, to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gray, a daughter and boy, Davis Starbird, born Dec. 26, to Mr. and Mrs. Ellisworth D. Curtis. Both babies had a happy reception and all are getting along nicely.

Mary Reed, one of Mrs. Martha Hill's sisters, who visited here all last summer, died at her home in Boston Saturday night, quite suddenly, although she had fallen considerably since her 16th turn from here. She had a bad cough while here. Mrs. Hill, her son Frank, and daughter, Mrs. Dora Emery went Wednesday morning to attend the funeral at Norway, where interment took place.

The Boy Scouts and other friends gave Henry Walker a home Christmas tree with which he was very much surprised and pleased with so many more presents than he expected. Henry has gained very slowly from his typhoid fever and has only recently been able to walk from one room to the other or receive visitors. The fever left him with a very weak heart which has kept him from gaining.

Frank Keene of North Paris lost a valuable horse here last Wednesday. He had brought over the horse to the train and got loaded up with grain to take him and got across the street to Charles Curtis' stable, when the horse dropped. He looked it from the sled and got it up and into the barn but in less than an hour he was dead. It was a great loss to the man had sick horses here that day but no more proved serious.

The Tubbs party, who went to Florida, have returned. The climate did not agree with some of them. The six months old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tubbs died at the arrival at South Paris. Mrs. Abbie Hayes has been staying at her uncle's, I. M. Emmons', and Mr. and Mrs. Loren Roberts are at Gerald Swift's. Fred Tubbs is going to North Paris and run a board saw in the saw mill there this winter.

Last Saturday the Grange held their last meeting for the year. It was bad traveling and not a very large attendance. The program presented by the New Year resolutions, two piano duets by Madeline Peabody and Mary Stearns, and readings by Mrs. O. L. Peabody, Madeline Peabody and Charles Marshall. The next meeting will be an all day meeting with a corporation meeting in the forenoon and installation of officers in the afternoon.

The most exciting affair the past week has been the tragedy about two miles below here towards Snow's Falls, an account of which may be found elsewhere in this paper. They had been having more or less trouble for some time. Some reports say that they had a bad temper, others think her insane. To say the least she has been meditating upon the deed and her husband, who is called by all who knew him, a good natured fellow, knew she had the revolver but probably did not think she would make ill use of the same. Mr. Kokkonen died in a few hours after, but requested that their year-old baby be sent back to Finland. Mrs. Kokkonen's wound was not so fatal and she was taken to Lewiston to the C. M. G. hospital, Sunday morning, where she has undergone an operation and will probably recover.

What came near being a fatal accident occurred at Walter Lord's Christmas eve. After the children were in bed they started up stairs to show his children how he looked. He had on a fur coat buttoned tight the collar turned up and a mask with very long whiskers, a sled was under his arm and he came to the children's bed he scratched a parlor match on his pants and it caught in the whiskers, of the mask, in an instant he was all ablaze. The mask completely burned off his head, singeing his eyebrows and eyelashes and hair burning the fur from the coat collar. It was quite a time before he and his wife could extinguish the flames. It scorched his face so badly he did not sleep that night. It was a miracle he was not strangled to death the mask being like tinder. Poor Santa will never go there any more.

BROWNFIELD.
Two Fires.
Richard Round's house caught fire today from a defective chimney and died down. The household goods were saved. The insurance was light. Round, who lived alone is staying with his brother, E. E. Gilpatrick at Portland. About midnight the same day a Baptist parsonage at Morrill's corner which was occupied by the family of Frank Day was also burned. The structure was saved, there was no injury.

OTISFIELD.
Albion Edwards.
Albion Edwards, the oldest male citizen of Otisfield, passed away at his home in Otisfield, Dec. 28th.
Mr. Edwards was born in Otisfield, born Aug. 18th, 1825, and with exception of a few years spent in town, had always lived in Otisfield. He was the son of John Edwards and Mary Edwards, each of whom lived to be 95 years of age.
Albion Edwards was one of four children: Solomon, Diamond, Albion and Eliza. Eliza, who married E. D. Shall of West Paris, being the only one who survives. Mr. Edwards married Lydia Noble of Norway, who died in 1905.

Mr. Edwards has been a member of Free Baptist Church for nearly half a century, and was a devoted Christian and a respected citizen. In politics he was a Republican. He has been in feeble health for several years. A year ago he received the Boston Globe, being the oldest male citizen of his town. Mr. Edwards leaves Mr. H. Edwards, and a daughter, E. Messive, both of whom lived at home place with their father.

Discovery Comes After 3000 Years

Buffalo House Takes the Taste Out of Castor Oil.

Since the earliest days of medicine chemists have been trying to take the taste out of castor oil.

The secret has at last been discovered by Spencer Kellogg & Sons of Buffalo, who are among the largest producers and refiners of vegetable oils in the world. They have removed the castor oil taste, and smell, too, purifying the oil and making it better and more effective. Nothing is added to it, nothing good taken out of it.

Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil is tasteless in the true sense. Even children take it easily, for all the nauseating effect is removed.

Sold now at all drug stores in 25c and 50c sizes. Ask for Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil by name, for there are several preparations of castor oil, mixed and flavored, which are not tasteless and do not act as well.

The public is protected by the trade mark, a green castor leaf, bearing the signature, Kellogg's.

Made only by Spencer Kellogg & Sons, Inc., Buffalo, N. Y., refiners of vegetable oils.

Basket Ball.

Norway High School played their first game of basket ball at home Dec. 25 with the Paris Town Team. The game was very interesting and well played by both teams. The Paris boys lacked teamwork which made it easy for the home team to win.

The game was followed with a dance until twelve o'clock and fifty couples danced to the music of Stearns' orchestra.

The next game will be January 9 with the Gould Academy team.

Below is the score:

Building Up the Town.

By a Bryant Pond Writer.

At the beginning of the New Year, 1914 it is well for the citizens of a town to take account of stock, take a look at the things which have been accomplished during the past year and make plans to do things which most need to be done the present year.

We can all agree that the year 1913 has been a year of great improvement for our little town, in fact it is doubtful if there has ever been a year before when so much has been accomplished in a single year.

The greatest improvement of all is of course the building of the concrete sidewalk extending from the town hall to the junction of the Paris and Rumford roads beyond the Baptist church which is a great improvement. Another fine improvement has been made to our village in the attractive new residence on Rumford road which has been built this season by Benjamin Abbott.

At the town hall many improvements have been made by the Mason and K. of P. Lodges, including the building on of a kitchen for the use of societies. Many improvements both large and small have been made in the building line in nearly all sections of the town.

Though the efforts of our road commissioner, D. O. Dudley and the co-operation of the citizens of the town, the highways have shown a decided improvement and compare favorably now with the surrounding towns.

Altogether it has been a year of improvements and we all have reason to feel a little pride for it goes to show how much good we can accomplish by working together for the common good.

We are now face to face with the New Year and it should be the aim of every citizen of the town to help make this year and even better one than last in progress and improvements. Our Village Improvement Society has done a splendid work for the town since it was organized and it seems as if the possibilities of what it can do for the town is unlimited if our citizens will continue to pull together in the future as they have in the past.

This society can do for this town the same kind of work that the Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce are doing for the large towns and cities. Sometimes it seems as if we ought to change just one word in the name of this organization and call it the Town Improvement Society instead of Village because the work of this society is not for the interest of the village alone but for the whole town and every one in the town who wants to see our town grow and prosper, ought to become a member of this organization.

There is no reason why this town should not develop into one of the most prosperous and progressive communities in Maine, but to accomplish this we must work together more and more.

Bryant Pond has a fine central location. We are as well located for business as many a place that has grown into a far larger town. We are surrounded by a prosperous farming community and the centers of trade for a considerable area. The time is coming when we shall be connected with Rumford by rail and that will mean still more prosperity for our little town. The opportunities are here. Now it is up to us to make use of them.

We need to extend the sidewalk system. We need water works and a better lighting system. We need a fine system of highways leading from all sections of town to the business center, a good high school building and better school buildings throughout town.

There is no question but what all these improvements are needed and they will come in due time, but just now it seems as if our greatest need of all is a good hotel. No town can be complete without one. Our town will never have one until we make a move and get one. Here is a work which our Village Improvement Society could well take up and push to successful completion. We can accomplish almost anything if we undertake it if we only pull together. It is up to us.

CENTER CHATHAM, N. H.

Mrs. Annette McKean.

Mrs. Annette McKean died in Portland, Dec. 16th, of heart disease, aged about 40 years. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melburn Thomas. She married Warren D. McKean of Chatham and has lived in Chatham all her life. Mr. and Mrs. McKean had no children.

She is survived by one brother, Seth Thomas, of Chatham, one sister, Myrtle Gammon, her husband and one step-daughter; also one step-daughter-in-law.

The bearers were Byron Chaplin, Frank Harmon, Ralph Emerson and Calvin Meador. The burial was at Chatham Center, N. H., Dec. 12.

E. Bryant is with his sister, Mrs. O. Binford.

Enah Binford has been in Portland for a short stay.

Benah Jewell has been at home from Gorham for her vacation.

Clara Eastman has been at home from Bridgton for her vacation.

Calvin Meador has returned to Sweden, where he will work this winter.

Minnie Hanscom has returned home after a week's stay with her daughter at Alden McAllister's.

E. H. Gupitl reminds about the same. He rides out but is not able to help himself, so as to move without help.

Our school is in session once more, taught by Alice Charles. We are wondering if it will be so she can come back in the spring. It will be hard to give her up now.

Stoneham, Me., December 17, 1913. J. MELVIN BARTLETT, Collector of taxes of Stoneham, Me.

Conserve Your Energy.

Have you learned how to save your strength?
Have you acquired that wonderful power of conserving your strength for doing the things that are necessary to be done? Or have you gone on day after day, wasting precious energy upon trifles until you have drawn yourself up with a sharp "halt"?
Until then you will probably have no idea of the vitality you expend needlessly. And the worst of it is, not that you have wasted energy but that you have, at the same time, lost just that much power to generate more energy.
You may say to yourself, "Now I'll do twice as much today, and tomorrow I shall have only half as much to do."
The chances are, instead of gaining the half, you will lose the whole, having incapacitated yourself for doing even the half.
Fatigue is a fell destroyer of beauty and youth. Don't think that because you are young you can take chances.
Remember that if you don't use the ounce of prevention now, you will be compelled to resort to the pound of cure later on. And then, again, if you are middle aged, don't think you can afford to take chances for then you are likely to find even the "pound of cure" ineffective.
These are hurrying, worrying days, and there is much to be done, but it is fatal to try to overfill the cup. It means weariness, it means strain, and finally it means breaking down.
"Do the next thing" every day conscientiously and count the overflow in with the next day's regime.
Sooner than you can take note, you will be surprised to find how many of the things you plan to do can be eliminated and how often you can "kill two birds with one stone."
Then when you have come to realize this, suppose you profit by the knowledge and make it a practice to eliminate all needless expenditure of energy.
Do not, however, err on the other side and excuse yourself from doing necessary things.
In other words, conserving energy does not mean becoming lazy nor doing slight things, but to expend your energies as you should money, according to what you have and where you get value received for it.

BIRDS LET US LIVE.

Make Existence Possible by Destroying the Insects.
Birds live to eat. It is lucky for men they do, for if the birds did not break fast men would starve. Some years ago a French scientist told that if all the birds should suddenly die man would have only a year's life left to him. The Frenchman proved his point to the satisfaction of other scientists, but laymen laughed and the usual portion of them kept on killing.
It has always been my belief that the sin of bird prosecution had its beginning with the other sin in the Garden. Adam probably saw a robin picking away at a cherry and instantly said, "The bird is a thief." And Eve very likely saw a scarlet tanager sunning itself, and straightway coveted its plumage. So it is that the band of man and the head of woman has been raised against the bird ever since.
Why should not a robin or a cedar bird or a catbird or any other bird eat an occasional cherry? Their dinner of cutworms, caterpillars and other things obnoxious make cherry dessert their due.
How much does a bird eat? Take the robin as an example. It eats at certain seasons of the year about double its weight in insects and worms every day. A man in order to satisfy an equally well developed appetite would have to eat about 300 pounds all told at his three daily meals. To do this he would need to be 30 feet tall, 10 feet thick from front to back and five feet across the shoulders.
The bird's dinner hour begins at sunrise and ends an hour after sunset. Any legislation looking to the shortening of its hours of labor, which are coincident with the hours of eating would bring famine. All the song birds and all the game birds give service to man and they ask no pay for it except to be let alone.

Shot Husband and Self.

At the room which they occupied at Snow's Falls, Saturday afternoon, Hilda Kokkonen shot her husband, Otto Kokkonen, in the abdomen with a 32-caliber revolver, and then turned the weapon upon herself. The man lived only a few moments after the shooting. The woman was taken to the hospital in Lewiston on the early train, Sunday morning. It is reported that her wound is not serious.
Both were natives of Finland, Otto being 31 years of age and his wife 23. Otto had been employed in the vicinity for some years as a general laborer, and is said by former employers to be a "good fellow." They were married April 13, 1912, and had an infant daughter which was a year old on the day of the shooting.
The Kokkonens occupied a room in the south end of the house of Eekki Pulkkinen, on the Chandler Curtis farm, a short distance north of Snow's Falls. The man, who had been at work in the woods, came home the day before Christmas. The next day Mrs. Kokkonen took the baby and went to the home of the Finn minister, Charles Jullin, at West Paris. On Friday her husband went after her and brought her and the baby home.
On Saturday, according to the story of the Pulkkinens, there was more or less disturbance and evidence of dissension in the room occupied by the Kokkonens. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon the woman fired two shots at her husband. They were evidently fired from different points, as they went through windows on opposite sides of the room but neither hit the man. Things then quieted down and the man sat down on the bed and the woman went along to him and began combing his hair, standing beside him. While engaged in this she drew the revolver and fired point blank. The bullet entered the man's chest, passed near a kidney and lodged in the tissues. The man jumped through a window, ran around the house and in at a back door, then fell and soon died. The woman, with the baby in her arms, went out at the door of the room, and in the hall outside shot herself also in the abdomen.
Coroner William J. Wheeler of South Paris was notified, and on Sunday empaneled a jury composed of Chester H. Lang, Jr., Robert E. Shaw, D. Henry Ellisworth, D. Curtis, Fred C. Perham and Charles E. Barden. They viewed the remains and adjourned to the call of the coroner for a hearing. Dr. D. M. Stewart and Dr. H. L. Bartlett performed an autopsy on the remains.

A verdict that Kokkonen came to his death by a bullet wound in the abdomen, caused by a shot from a revolver held in the hand of his wife, was reported by the coroner's jury.
There has been no looking at the place, and liquor had nothing to do with the tragedy. It is not known just what was the nature of the trouble, but some of those best acquainted with the parties consider the woman as mentally irresponsible.
Friends of the Kokkonens say that Mrs. Kokkonen had been insanely jealous of her husband for a long time and that as long as six months ago, bought a revolver. It is not known, however, what she had threatened his life. She had carried the revolver with her.
Saturday was the first birthday anniversary of their son and it is believed that she had selected this day as a fitting time for the tragic ending of her husband's life and her own. So far as known he had no bad habits and appeared to be greatly attached to his wife and child.
Mr. and Mrs. Kokkonen came to Maine from Finland a few years ago.

HARRISON.

Mrs. Franklin Kneeland passed away Christmas night about 7 o'clock, after a brief illness of pneumonia. Mrs. Kneeland had been in poor health for a long while and lacked vitality to rally from the effects of her illness. She was a lady highly esteemed and will be missed by a large circle of friends. She leaves a husband, two sons, Oscar Kneeland and Albert Kneeland and a brother, A. I. Hamblen of West Fryeburg. Funeral services were held Sunday at 2 o'clock and interment was in the family lot in the village cemetery. Rev. J. B. Coy conducted the funeral services.
Mrs. Kneeland was 77 years, 7 months and 10 days old.
The flowers were handsome, there being a beautiful wreath from 14 friends at the Free Baptist church; a spray of flowers from Lakeside Grange; a spray from Mrs. Charles Kneeland and Mrs. Alfred Keene of Bridgton; also a beautiful spray from the two sons of the deceased, H. O. Kneeland and Albert S. Kneeland.

A dancing school will be held at Grange hall, taught by H. H. Harrington. We understand the first lesson will begin on New Year's night.

The Christmas exercises at the Grange hall on Christmas night were very fine and drew a large audience. The committee in charge are to be congratulated.

A Mrs. Thurlow is preaching at the Free Baptist church and is engaged for three months we are informed. She and her small daughter are living in a part of Mrs. Maria Ricker's house.

BETHEL.

George-Phillips.
Frank Everett George and Amy E. Phillips, both of Bethel, were married at eleven o'clock, Christmas morning, at the home of the officiating clergyman, Rev. Arba John Marsh, pastor of the court street Free Baptist church of Auburn.

The couple was unattended. The single ring service was used and immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. George left for parts unknown. They will make their home at Bethel.

Forty-eight former Maine people, now residents of Falmouth, met recently and organized a Maine club, the purpose being purely social, to enable those already there to become better acquainted and to afford an opportunity, to new-comers to the rapidly increasing community. Among those who joined were Charles A. Roberts, Dr. Harold F. Atwood and Ernest M. Atwood, formerly of Buckfield and Mrs. Sayton A. Merrill, Mrs. E. J. Ostrander, formerly of Bethel.

Norway Lake Supply Co.

Hail to the advent of nineteen fourteen;
Joy may it bring to all whom we know.
Bright be the sunshine that hovers around you;
Merry the jingle of bells o'er the snow.
Here at our Lake store the salesmen are busy
With cotton seed, Haskell's, oats, meal, and corn.
Flours of all kinds may be had at a bargain;
Peerless and Occident need no big horn.
If it's sugar, molasses or coffee you're needing,
Grape fruit or cranberries, lard, fish or beans,
Here's where you'll get them of largest assortment;
Even shirts, coats and mittens and nobby blue jeans.
If with a cold or the grip you are aching,
Quinine and menthol will stop all your pain;
There are plasters and pills and Hood's Sarsaparilla,
Swamproot and bitters to make you all gain.
Then hail to the coming of nineteen fourteen,
Happy contentment to all who may call.
Here's where you'll find your every day bargains
In summer and winter, in spring and in fall.
